Halton Healthcare Named One of Canada's Most Admired Corporate Cultures of 2021

Halton Healthcare has been recognized as one of the 2021 recipients of Canada's Most Admired Corporate Cultures Award in the Broader Public Sector (BPS) category by Waterstone Human Capital. This national program highlights best-in-class Canadian organizations for cultivating high performance corporate cultures that also help sustain a competitive advantage.

"At Waterstone we believe corporate culture drives performance and that it's your organization's greatest asset," said Marty Parker, President and Chief Executive Officer of Waterstone Human Capital and Chair of the Canada's Most Admired™ program. "Each of the 2021 award recipients puts culture at the centre of everything they do, and demonstrates a commitment to culture as competitive advantage. They set an excellent example of how crafting and sustaining a high performance culture can drive incredible growth and performance."

This award is based on an evaluation of Halton Healthcare's corporate culture over the past three years, including but not limited to - vision, leadership, individual and organizational performance and corporate social responsibility.

"Our organizational culture is built on our core values of Compassion, Accountability and Respect," stated Denise Hardenne, Halton Healthcare's President and CEO, "allowing us to create a workplace focused on inclusion, high-performance and recognition."

"This exemplary achievement brings with it a true sense of pride and accomplishment," added Dr. David McConachie, Chief of Staff, Halton Healthcare, "we are proud of our culture and our people who keep it alive and thriving."

"While this award highlights outstanding corporate cultures," continued Ms. Hardenne, "it is also a reminder for us to continue cultivating a high performance culture at Halton Healthcare. It is this culture that provides us with the strength and compassion to support our communities and our colleagues in many different ways.”

Halton Healthcare is one of ten organizations receiving this award in the BPS category. In total, 50 organizations were recognized across five different categories. Past recipients in the BPS category include The Ottawa Hospital, Michael Garron Hospital, CAMH and Holland Bloorview.

Halton Healthcare will accept this award at Canada’s Most Admired Corporate Cultures awards celebration on March 31, 2022.
