Halton Healthcare's Work-Fit Total Therapy wins the 2020 Consumers Choice Award

Halton Healthcare's Work-Fit Total Therapy Centre has been named the best Pain and Rehabilitation Therapy business in Halton Region by the Consumers Choice Award. The award, which represents the trust and loyalty of consumers, recognizes the Work-Fit Total Therapy Centre's team for outstanding patient care.

The Work-Fit Total Therapy Centre is a full service rehabilitation clinic operating at all three Halton Healthcare hospitals located in Georgetown, Milton and Oakville. Work-Fit Total Therapy Centre's knowledgeable therapists offer specialized services to referring surgeons, physicians and local sporting clubs.

The 2020 Consumers Choice Award highlights the team's continuous effort to always provide exceptional service. "I cannot think of a team more deserving of this award. Their ability to serve patients with the utmost compassion and respect has been acknowledged by our organization and the surrounding community," said Jody Strik, Director, Integrated Care & Transitions, Halton Healthcare. "Their dedication to the health and well-being of our patients is truly second to none."

Consumer Choice Award, an initiative of the Consumer's Choice Institute in Canada, has been recognizing business excellence in small and medium sized businesses for over 30 years. It is the only organization to use statistically supported research and consumer opinions to ensure that the most outstanding companies across Canada are recognized.

"This award is particularly meaningful as it reflects the opinions of the patients we serve in our communities, and it recognizes our vision of providing exemplary patient experience always," notes Judy Linton, SVP Patient Experience & Chief Nursing Executive. "Congratulations and special thanks to our Work-Fit Total Therapy team!"
